Bet Ha'am has become my family's spiritual home for more than a decade. I sought out a community with shared values, and provided opportunities for Tikkun Olam, healing the world. My grandparents were survivors and the lessons learned were to take action for causes which enrich, support, uplift and teach others.

Over the years my roles have changed at Bet Ha'am. I've taught cooking classes, supported the Rabbi on the L'Taken trip, planned and organized the Purim carnival, supported the library, weeded in the gardens, taught in the Hebrew school and I continue my support for those experiencing food insecurities in our community through Family Promise. In years past, I was a member of the Levey Day School board and found the experience very rewarding. I am grateful for the opportunity to be part of the board at Bet Ha'am.
